Philadelphia, PA - October 10th, 2023

About Colby Ciarrocca

Colby Ciarrocca focuses her practice on catastrophic injury and complex medical malpractice cases.

Colby Ciarrocca, a recently graduated Juris Doctor from Rutgers Law School, Camden, NJ, brings a robust legal education and a dynamic set of experiences to her role as an Associate Attorney at Messa & Associates. She completed her Juris Doctor in May 2023, demonstrating academic excellence and receiving First Year Honors during her time at Rutgers.

Ms. Ciarrocca earned her undergraduate degree, cum laude, from Rutgers University and acted as Captain of the Division I soccer team.

Prior to joining Messa & Associates, Colby Ciarrocca spent time as the Judicial Intern for Magistrate Judge David R. Strawbridge, writing bench memorandums and researching reports on: (i) employment discrimination claims related to unexpected furloughs and terminations during the beginning stages of COVID-19 pandemic; (ii) products liability claims alleging design defect; and (iii) contract disputes. She also worked as a law clerk at the Villari Firm prior to becoming a law clerk at Messa & Associates.

Colby Ciarrocca's comprehensive legal education, coupled with her practical experiences, positions her as a successful Associate Attorney. Her commitment to excellence, demonstrated through academic achievements and hands-on involvement in legal matters, highlights her potential to make significant contributions in her legal career.
